GREGORY TRIAL

Arguments in Hard-Fought and Sensational Case Will Close To-Day.

SMITH'S IMPASSIONED PLEA

Juror Said to Have Expressed Opinion Before Trial, but Matter Is Ignored.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ROANOKE, VA., November 16.—The trial of Dr. W. S. Gregory is nearing an end. After the instructions were given the jury this morning, Mr. Harry Smith, of Richmond, opened for the prosecution. He declared that Dr. Gregory's story had been torn all to pleeds by himself with contradictions, and could not be relied upon. Of the negro, Lee Martin, he declared that he had not only lied from beginning to end, but had attempted to bribe another negro.

end, but had attempted to bribe another negro.

Martyr to Duty.

Mr. Smith closed by referring to Miss Irvine as follows: "My God, gentlemen, she has done her duty, hasn't she? Can you imagine a chaste woman going through all the nasty details of this trial except from a strong sense of duty to womankind? She has martyred herself to the cause of virtue; she has immolated herself on the sword of duty she has gone into the fery she has immolated herself on the sword of duty; she has gone into the flery furnace, that no other woman in Roanoke may ever know her awful experience. She has set the women of this and every city a high example of self-sacrifice in the cause of morality. She believes that God, in His infinite mercy, saved her from what might have been an awful fate. She says that she moaned. That mean uttered had the power to shake the very throne of Jehovah."

Mr. Roy B, Smith, for the defense

the power to shake the very throne of Jehovah."

Mr. Roy B. Smith, for the defense, reviewed the evidence at length and declared that Miss Irvine was laboring under a delusion as the result of taking the anesthetic, and had been so declared by expert medical men. Dr. Gregory could never have made such an attempt on Miss Irvine. She was a stranger to him, and people were coming and going all the time. If he had intended such a crime ne would have advised Mrs. Coulter to go home, instead of staying.

Juror Questioned.

In the midst of Mr. Smith's speech he was interrupted by Mr. Perkins, who requested the counsel for the defense and Judge Woods to enter an adjoining room. It was stated that one of the jurors had been heard to express an opinion as to what he would do if he was on the jury, before he had been summoned. It was decided to ignore the matter.

Mr. Smith was followed by H. O. Humphreys, for the defense, who spoke about two hours, discussing the inconsistencies in the evidence of the prosecution.

LPWARD START

After Changing from Coffee to Postum.

Many a talented person is kept back because of the interference of coffee with the nourishment of the body.

This is especially so with those whose nerves are very sensitive, as is often the case with talented persons. There is a simple, easy way to set rid of coffee evits, and a Tenn. lady's experience along these lines is worth considering. She says:

"Almost from the beginning of the use of coffee it hurt my stomach. By the time I was fifteen I was almost a nervous wreek, nerves all unstruing no strength to endure the most trivial thing, either work or fun.

"There was scarcely anything I could eat that would agree with me. The little I did eat seemed to give me more trouble than it was worth. I finally quit coffee and drank hot water, but there was so little food I could digest I was literally starving; was so weak I could not sit up long at a time.

"It was then a friend brought not a hot up of Postum. I drank part of it, and after an hour I felt as though I had had something to eat—left strengthened. That was about awyears ago, and, after continuing Postum in place of coffee, and graduity getting stronger, to-day I can eat trid digest anything I want, walk as much as I want. My nerves are steady.

"I believe the first thing that did me any good and gave me an upward start was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee, "There's real was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee, and graduity was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee, "There's real was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee," "There's real was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee, "There's real was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee," "There's real was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee, and for coffee, "There's real was Postum, and I use It altogether work instead of coffee in the provision of the conduction of the coffee in the provision of the conduction of the coffee in

Most Treatments for Rheumatism Are Experimental

Physicians are not of one mind on the subject but the highest authorities hold that rheumatism is a disease of the blood. All admit that in attacks of rheumatism there is a marked and rapid thinning of the blood. This is a condition that a treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once arrests and corrects. The thin blood is enriched, the strengthened organs of the body throw off the poisonous impurities and the patient gets well.

With the fact in mind that the rheumatism is in the blood, it will readily be seen how useless it is to try to cure it by rubbing liniments on the skin. External applications may give temporary relief from pain but to cure rheumatism you must treat it through the blood Dr Williams' Pink Pills have cured hundreds of cases of rheumatism and no sufferer should allow any prejudice to stand in the way of giving these pills a thorough trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be mailed, post-paid, on receipt of price, soc. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

News of Petersburg

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 169 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Van. November 16. It is said that Engineer Thomas James, who committed suicide in the Stratford Hotel yesterday morning, was suffering from melancholia at the time, and this may account for his act. Mr. James had been a locomotive engineer for thirty years or more, and for twenty years past had been an engineer in the service of the Atiantic Coast Line, running passenger trains between Charleston and Columbia, S. C., and other points, with his home in Charleston. He was a faithful and trusted employe, and received large wages. Several years ago he was injured by a fall from a street car, and later aggravated this injury in stepping from his engine. He brooded over fear that these injuries would eventually disable him from the service to which he was devoted and to the number of surgical operations 223. over fear that these injuries would eventually disable him from the service to which he was devoted and it is believed this fear preyed so heavily on his mind that he ended it by taking his life. Instally Among Negroes.

Dr. William F. Drewry's annual report of the operations of the Central State Hospital, an abstract of which was published in to-day's Times-Dispatch, gives the total number of patients at present in the hospital at 1,255—males, 598; females, 687, Dr. Drewry, in an interesting discussion of the increasing insanity among negroes, and the causes leading to it, makes the following suggestions, which are eminently worthy of consideration by all classes of the negro race:

"There needs to be a general awakening in the race to higher ideals and purposes in life. If persistent and systematic efforts were made looking to productiveness and usefulness, comfortable homes, healthy surroundings, personal habits of cleanliness, industry and sobriety, physical, mental and moral upbuilding, instead of following the line of least resistance—loafing, deping, living in unhygienic surroundings, incring moral obligations, disregarding eration by all classes of the negro race:

"There needs to be a general awakening in the race to higher ideals and purposes in life. If persistent and systematic efforts were made looking to productiveness and usefulness, comfortable homes, healthy surroundings, personal habits of cleanliness, industry and sobriety, physical, mental and moral upbuilding, instead of following the line of least resistance—loading, crap-shooting, drinking, gambling, doping, living in unhygienic surroundings, incring moral obligations, disregarding the future consequences upon themselves and their progeny, then we should confidently look for fewer mental wrecks and criminals."

Dr. Casper C. Henkel departed this life at his home here at 12:30 o'clock to-day of diabetes, after an illness of two months, in his seventy-fourth year. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Frank Rupert, of Wilmington, Del.

Dr. Henkel was one of the most prominent physicians and surgeons in Shenandoah county. At the close of the Civil War he was acting division surgeon of the celebrated Stonewall Brigade, and was a member of the Board of Medicai Examiners for General Jackson's corps. He performed during that time hearly all the surgical operations incident to the army. He engaged in twenty-nine regular battles—all the battles in which the army of Northern Virginia was engaged from McDowell to Appomattox. At the battle of Gaines's Mill, of five surgeons who entered the engagement with the brigade, three were wounded and one killed. Dr. Henkel alone escaping uninjured. After the surrender he resumed the practice of his profession in New Market, and continued the same until incapacitated by sickness. His death is an irreparable loss not to this community alone, but to this part of the State.

His funeral will take place Wednesday at 3 o'clock from Emmanuel Lutheran Church, of which he had been an eider and active member for more than fifty years. Two Buildings Are Lost and Hotel Badly Demaged. Bridly Demaged.
